Wallace Favored In Tuesday Vote

Florida Race Nears Wire

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie, criss-crossing Florida in the last full day of campaigning, say they still have a chance of defeating Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace Tuesday in the nation's second 1972 presidential primary.

Wallace, however, predicts he'll top the 11-man Democratic field and says he has an excellent chance of capturing a majority of the state's 81 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, who is making Florida a major test of his presidential candidacy, says he has a good chance of pulling ahead of Muskie and Humphrey and finishing second.

And New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, appearing with Sen. George S. McGovern on a television interview show from which all of the other candidates pulled out, predicted "the voters of Florida may surprise the country" with how they vote on Wallace.

"He may not get as big a vote as everybody seems to think he is," the New York mayor added.

All of the candidates had busy schedules today as they campaigned in the complicated contest in which victories will be judged both on the relative standing of the contenders in the statewide vote and on how many delegates each wins by finishing first in one of Florida's 12 congressional districts.

Wallace remains the heavy favorite. Most observers consider Humphrey and Muskie competing for second, although Jackson says his polls put him neck-and-neck with them. Lindsay and McGovern are believed contending for fifth, though some Lindsay aides see him finishing higher. Also on the ballot: Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles, Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana and former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

In the Republican primary, conservative Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio campaigns in the Miami area in what most observers consider a doomed bid to defeat President Nixon for the state's 30 GOP convention delegates.

In campaigning Sunday, all of the major candidates except Muskie appeared on television interview programs—Humphrey, Wallace and Jackson on the three network shows and McGovern and Lindsay in the remains of what started out as an all-candidate debate.

Muskie, bowing to pressure from his rivals, reversed his previous position and agreed to STATE CHAMP — The referee of the state 185-pound state wrestling championship match raises Mark Davey's hand aloft signaling his win over Kevin O'Brien who dejectedly leaves the mat. Davey is the second modern-day state champion from Circleville High School, following Steve Richards who was the class in the state in cross country last fall. Details are on the sports page.

Reds Increase Viet Attacks

Cambodian Action Brings Contact

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces during the weekend made their largest number of attacks across South Vietnam in three weeks, while in eastern Cambodia a new 5,000-man South Vietnamese drive made its first significant contact with the enemy.

The South Vietnamese command reported 33 enemy attacks in Vietnam, almost half of them by rockets and mortars, between 6 a.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today. More than half a dozen ground engagements were reported.

Incomplete reports said 19 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 89 wounded. The Saigon command claimed 137 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed.

The South Vietnamese reported a four-hour fight in eastern Cambodia 75 miles northwest of Saigon, where government troops launched a new drive last Friday. Headquarters reported 11 enemy troops and two government soldiers killed and 16 South Vietnamese wounded.

The South Vietnamese force also captured five Cambodian Communist guerrillas hiding inside a bunker near a forward command post seven miles northwest of Kompong Trach. One of the prisoners said his mission was to guide North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops. He said about 200 of these had fled when they observed South Vietnamese helicopters ferrying in materials to a new fire base.

The U.S. Command announced that American troops strength in South Vietnam dropped 5,100 men last week to 114,500. It was the biggest weekly cut since Jan. 21-27, when 7,200 men were withdrawn.

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Sheriff's police are perplexed by the motives of burglars who broke into a rural Decatur home sometime over the weekend.

Police said the burglars who entered Harold Catlin's house took only a toilet bowl valued at $50 and a $1.50 light bulb while neglecting $140 in cash lying on a nearby table.

Optometrists Needed For Ohio In Future

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio will need nearly 300 more optometrists than it has now in the next eight years, and the executive director of the Ohio Optometric Association says the state could use another 150 right now.

William Bennett says Ohio now has 1,017 practicing eye doctors, enough to give adequate service to all 88 counties as long as some are content with part-time service or willing to travel to other counties.

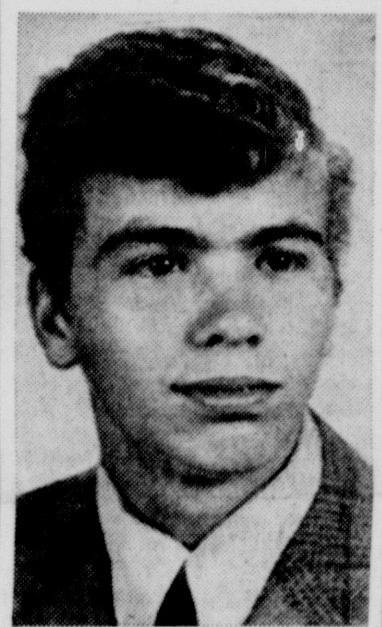

Bennett also predicts that as government, employer and insurance-financed eye care becomes more available, more doctors will be required.

HEAVY fog in the northwest part of Pickaway County caused some confusion in the Westfall School district this morning and allowed students an extra hour's sleep.

Seems the school's buses were grounded for an additional hour until the fog cover lifted.

First Circleville High School Cager Named Bob Bowsher Award Winner

Terry Morrison, senior at Circleville High School, is the winner of the Bob Bowsher Award, presented by The Herald to the outstanding basketball player in Pickaway County.

TERRY MORRISON
The Bob Bowsher Memorial award was named in honor of an outstanding Circleville High School athlete who gave his life for his country in Europe during World War II.

Bowsher was a leader and a true team player as well as a fine athlete. Originated in 1948, the award was first presented to James Pickelseimer, who played at Williamsport High School.

Through the years, the award has gone to a player from one of the schools in the county system. When first started, there were 10 class A high schools in the county school system.

2 Men Arrested For Attempted Sale Of China

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) — Two men were arrested in Ashland County Sunday when they tried to sell rare china stolen from a museum here Thursday to a Jeromesville antique dealer.

James Mullen and Leonard Pollock, both of East Liverpool, were charged with taking 37 pieces of Lotsware china, valued at $50,000, from the East Liverpool Historical Society museum.

The antique dealer said he agreed to buy 25 of the pieces Thursday for $1,500. Delivery was to be Sunday, and the dealer tipped off police after another dealer told him the pieces might be stolen.

The china was made here during the 1890s by the Knowles, Taylor and Knowles China Co.

the Herald feels the award achieves new stature and meaning. The selection is made by The Herald.

Terry is the son of Mrs. Betty Morrison, 131 Parkway Ave. and Stillman Morrison, Route 2, Ashville. He is a member of Good Shepherd United Methodist Church and is very active in the youth fellowship there.

He is a member of the Circleville High School Key Club and the Circleville Huddle of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Terry's name appears on the CHS basketball record list more than any other athlete in the school's history.

HE is the leading scorer for a single season, with a 431 point total this year. He is credited with the most field goals in a single season, 159, and also the most free throws made in a season, 113.

Ohio Senate Meets To Act On Capital Improvements

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate returns for a floor session tonight to act on the administration's $205.6 million capital improvements bill.

The House meets Wednesday morning to consider a batch of proposed constitutional amendments, including one to lift the state's ban on lotteries. The capital improvements bill would allocate funds for state construction projects over the biennium. Revenue bonds, rather than a public bond issue, would be used to finance the measure.

If approved by the Senate, it will move to the House for further hearings.

The lottery proposal was approved 21-10 in the Senate last July and, if approved unchanged in the House by a three-fifths margin, would go on the May 2 primary ballot.

Legislators who fear repeal will lead to widespread legalization of gambling are expected to make a concerted effort to limit the scope of the proposal to permit a state lottery, but maintain constitutional bans against other forms of gambling.

Gov. John Gilligan has denounced a state lottery as a "poor man's tax," but the issue does not require a gubernatorial signature to go on the primary ballot as long as it gains a three-fifths majority in the House.

Other constitutional amendments before the House Tuesday would require the governor and lieutenant governor to run as a team and give state legislators an expense allowance.

A Senate floor vote is expected this week on a bill to exempt all retirement income of $8,000 or less from the new income tax.

Another bill expected to be voted out of a Senate committee would lower the age of maturity to 18. It now is 21, although 18-year-olds have the right to vote.

Highlighting committee business this week will be a session of the full Senate Urban and Highways Affairs Committee to consider the controversial strip mine bill.

The measure was reported out of a subcommittee last week after a compromise agreement was reached on amendments. But neither ecologists nor mine operators are happy with the compromise and say they will work for changes by the full committee.

Antipollution Costs Include Loss Of Jobs

Closed Factories, Price Increases Seen In Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government study says the cost of antipollution efforts will close hundreds of factories, put thousands out of work, push prices and imports up and force the nation's production down.

Walter Hamilton, a deputy assistant secretary of commerce and chairman of an industry advisory committee, said, however, that industrial executives found the report's projections "less bad than they feared."

The report, released Sunday, is the first comprehensive government attempt to assess the economic impact of antipollution efforts.

It was issued by the Environmental Protection Agency, the President's Council on Environmental Quality and the Commerce Department. Eleven private consulting firms furnished the agencies with information for the report.

The study said large corporations are in the best position to survive the antipollution (Continued on Page 14)

Neil Armstrong Visits Scotland

LANGHOLM, Scotland (AP) — Neil Armstrong, the first man to walk on the moon, was greeted by several thousand people when he arrived at this tartan town in the Scottish lowlands.

Langholm is the ancestral home of the Armstrongs. Armstrongs from all over Britain journeyed to the usually quiet town to cheer the moonwalker when he was made Langholm's first honorary freeman. That is the same as receiving a key to an American city.

After the freeman ceremony Saturday, as he was surrounded by smiling townspeople, Armstrong said: "Thank you. I feel like I've come home."

Nostalgic Items From Railroading To Be Auctioned

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Items of nostalgia from the early years, the golden years and the declining years of American railroading go on public sale here next Monday.

Among the 1,877 items to be auctioned off at the three-day sale are the roltop desk once used by rail magnate E.H. Harriman and the steam whistle and a drive wheel from the locomotive John Bull, one of the earliest engines in American rail history.

The John Bull was built for the Camden and Amboy Railroad in 1831 and pulled its duty between Camden and Trenton, N.J., on a line that was the beginning of the rail connection between Philadelphia and New York.

Hundreds of rail buffs from around the country are expected to be on hand as the entire collection of the Pennsylvania Railroad Museum goes on the auction block.

The sale was ordered by the trustees of the Penn Central Transportation Co., now undergoing reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws.

The trustees are under court order to divest the railroad of all nonrail assets.

"It is apparently the largest railroad auction and certainly the largest collection of railroadiana ever offered for sale," Lou Pardee, president of the National Railroad Historical Society, said after viewing the collection at a preview last week.

Sandwiched in between Item No. 1, "Scrapbook of Assorted Special Menus," and Item No. 1,877, "Famed Painting 'Passing Strangers' Signed 'Athen'." are hundreds of old photographs, a huge collection of official railroad guides and other bits of railroad history.

Many of the items have only a tenuous connection with railroading: cast iron deer heads, five counterfeit bills, and two wooden flag poles.

But most of the dusty pieces are of undoubted interest to rail buffs: Pullman car ladders, railroad headlamps, old telegraph keys, the battered top hat worn by the engineer of the first train into Indianapolis, a 6-foot-long clock that once was in the Newark, N.J., station, lanterns, baggage carts, and a $60 check paid in 1840 to one John Wagner for a month's service as a locomotive engineer.

Federal Report Bares Real Estate Abuses

By G. C. THELEN Jr., Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has just the thing for those aspiring to be slightly unscrupulous real estate developers. It's a report, as helpful as a how-to manual, on raiding the U.S. Treasury for millions through the subsidized housing program.

The report is a deadly earnest audit of abuses uncovered in the government program that provides subsidies on interest to private developers for construction of low-rent apartments for the poor. The government promises to try to end the abuses.

The audit described these ways of jacking up project costs and profits at government expense:

—Buy land cheap, preferably in rough terrain far from shopping and transportation, and persuade the government to assess its value at 25 per cent of what you paid. You get a 195-per-cent profit when the government arranges a mortgage including the inflated figure.

—Hire yourself on as a consultant to expedite construction and save money. Instead, save the project no money, but have your fee add $27,000 to its cost.

—Be the architect for the apartment building and charge twice what you usually do for nonsubsidy housing.

—Subcontract construction to your own subsidiaries and have them charge considerably more than for nongovernment projects.

—Purposely overestimate the time needed for construction, then collect extra profits for finishing ahead of schedule.

That's all there is to it. But, the audit says, it helps to do your business with federal housing officials who have a "lack of training and unfamiliarity with manual requirements."

In its examination of 62 projects, the auditors for the Department of Housing and Urban Development found "eight cases where, within a year of acquisition, land was valued at amounts that resulted in profits ranging from 65 to 195 per cent."

OSU vice president for university affairs, Robert Smith, who said last week the customary folding chairs might mar the green plastic surface, now says planks or some kind of mat will be used to protect it.

enough to testify in a day or two but shouldn't leave her hospital bed.

The committee wants to question Mrs. Beard about a memorandum attributed to her that links the settlement of a Justice Department antitrust suit against ITT to the firm's pledge of $400,000 to the Republican National Convention.

Mrs. Beard, 53, has been in a Denver hospital, reportedly suffering from a heart condition, since the committee took up the ITT case at the request of Richard G. Kleindienst, whom President Nixon has nominated to succeed John N. Mitchell as head of the Justice Department.

The two unidentified specialists agreed with her two doctors that she was in no condition to travel to Washington to testify but that she would be able to give testimony to committee members from her hospital bed.

The committee resumes the hearings Tuesday with testimony from Mitchell.

Meanwhile, Republican Sen. Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky accused two of his Democratic colleagues of conspiring with columnist Jack Anderson to discredit government officials "despite the absence of wrongdoing of any kind."

Cook, in a letter asking Committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., to call a closed meeting to consider the accusation, said the hearing record compelled him to conclude that Sens. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Birch Bayh of Indiana were involved in a "political conspiracy" with Anderson.

Cook said Brit Hume, an associate of Anderson, gave notes about the case to Kennedy, and the senator didn't make the notes available to the committee or inform members he had them.

"The giving of notes and other documents to a member of a senatorial committee which is investigating the very subject matter contained in those notes is a serious affront to the committee process bordering on contempt," Cook said.

Kennedy, in response to Cook's accusation, said: "I hope that each member of the committee has instructed his staff, as I have, to develop every relevant piece of information and that none of them will be deterred by the diversionary efforts of those who would rather not see this investigation proceed."

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., announced that he has asked the Federal Trade Commission to reopen the ITT antitrust case because "sufficient questions have been raised about the propriety of the Justice Department settlement to warrant a new, independent investigation of this case."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford, in a prepared statement, accused Anderson today of "dragging the name of the President of the United States before the Senate Judiciary Committee on the basis of evidence which is so unreliable that it would be barred from every court of law in the nation."

Thieves Loot Brooks-Yates School Rooms

Thieves broke into the Brooks-Yates School Sunday night or early Monday morning and escaped with an as yet undetermined amount of merchandise.

Marion Corne, janitor of the school located on Route 104, was first to report the theft.

Sheriff's Deputies found that the thief broke a padlock on a coal chute in the rear of the building to gain entrance. They also broke a door between the coal room and the furnace room.

A supply cabinet and soft drink machine were pried open and several rooms were ransacked.

All items were carted out the front door.

The thief forced open a side-window on his car to gain entrance.

Soviets Start Construction Of New-Type Missile Cruiser

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russian navy is reported building a major new class of cruiser, at least the ninth new type of long range Soviet surface warship to appear in about a dozen years.

Details are skimpy, but intelligence reports indicate the new cruiser will displace about 9,000 tons. It probably will be armed with advanced antiaircraft and antiship missiles, U.S. sources say.

The cruiser is under construction at the huge Nikolayev shipyard on the Black Sea where the Russians also are building a huge new vessel which could be an aircraft carrier.

Top U.S. defense officials told Congress recently that the Russians have greatly expanded their naval shipbuilding capacity, and predicted that modernization of the Russian surface fleet will accelerate during the next five years.

"During this period, we believe the Soviets will add many new ships to their fleet, including missile-armed cruisers, destroyers, and helicopter anti-submarine warfare ships," said Adm. Thomas H. Moorer.

Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, forecast that by mid-1977 almost half of Russia's surface warships will be bristling with missiles.

According to U.S. assessments, the Russians have added 63 new ships over the past five years, raising the strength of their surface fleet to 215 major combat vessels.

By contrast, the U.S. surface fleet has been shrinking from 324 ships in mid-1968 to a planned force of 243 by mid-summer as the Navy moves into its postwar policy, dictated by high costs, of a smaller but more modern fleet.

Since 1966, the U.S. Navy has sent 34 new fighting ships to sea while laying up or scrapping many obsolescent war vessels, most dating back to World War II.

But for all the Soviet naval gains, U.S. defense leaders say the Soviet navy lacks enough all-weather ports, air cover when its fleet operates far from the homeland, and supply and support ships in the open ocean.

Sabin Plans To Relax

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Albert E. Sabin says he plans to spend about a month in Palm Beach, Fla., recovering from recent open heart surgery before going back to work at the Weizmann Institute in Israel.

Dr. Sabin, developer of an oral anti-polio vaccine and president of the Weizmann Institute, underwent the surgery Feb. 29 to have a leg vein implanted in his heart to replace a major heart artery.

When he does go back to work, Sabin, who is 63, said he plans to cut his work week to five, six-hour days and will "devote the rest of the time to myself."

He said he had been working 14 to 16 hours a day "including weekends, with no vacations during which I got away from all work" before he suffered two heart attacks last year.

Sabin said the heart attacks in July and November were unusual in that they came during periods of relaxation, not as the result of physical effort or emotional crisis. Studies showed the heart was not getting enough blood, but no signs of muscle damage in the heart showed up.

Stock List In Slump

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were sharply lower today, widening the slide of the past several sessions.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 8.13 at 931.74 at noon.

Declines led advances on the New York Stock Exchange by more than 2 to 1.

Analysts said the market was falling to profit-taking pressure. They noted this had sent prices drifting lower in recent sessions but remarked that the declines had been less severe. Last Monday, the Dow closed at its highest level since April 1971.

Stocks were off in all categories except for rails, which were higher. A news report cited analyst predictions that rails should show higher earnings this year.

Solons Name Representatives To Planning Commission

In written confirmation received from Pickaway County township trustees, Kermit Dountz, Ben Nothstine, Bob

Bush and Don Strous were named to represent them with voting rights in the Pickaway County Regional Planning Commission.

The appointment caused some confusion at the County Commissioners' office Monday morning.

Township trustees had responded verbally with names of four representatives some weeks earlier, but apparently changed their minds in their written endorsement today.

The four join Ned Harden, named temporary chairman of the commission representing the county commissioners, Wayne Griffith representing Circleville, Nolo Gulick representing Ashville, Russ Toole representing South Bloomfield and a representative to be named from the County Engineer's department.

Also named to the commission were four at-large appointees in an effort to give each section of the county a voting representative.

The four chosen are Don Bowers of Circleville Twp., George Hamrick of the County Extension office, Don Archer of the County Soil and Conservation Service and Waldo Swoyer.

Logan Elm Teens Take Honors

Central District Science day was represented March 11 by three Logan Elm juniors and one teacher who served as a judge.

The Science Day was held at French Field House on the Ohio State University campus.

Attending from LEHS were Steven DeBruin, Vanessa Mills and Robin Wetzel, all members of the Junior Class. Mrs. Robert Mills, a teacher in that school district, was judge of chemistry projects on display at OSU.

Vanessa received a superior rating for her project, "The Heat Is On," a year and a half long study on the effect of thermal discharge on plants. Her achievement earned her the privilege of presenting her project again at the State Science Day, April 13 at the Lausche Building, Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Steve's project, "Tanning a Hide," received a rating of "good." The young man used a home tanning method and changed a calf's hide into a beautiful skin rug.

Robin also received a "good" rating on her study of the eye and its diseases.

Dear Friends,
It is only natural that the process of adjusting to the loss of a loved one is called grief therapy. All relatives and friends are necessary at time of bereavement to aid the distraught survivors to accept and adjust to their loss. Patience and perseverance is required as the process of adjustment often requires many months duration.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

The Smooth Way Of Playing Cupid

DEAR ABBY: I know a man who took his wife and recently widowed sister in law to a baseball game. No sooner had the three of them sat down in their reserved seats when in came a gentleman and his young son, and sat right beside them. The man who had brought the two ladies happened to know the late entry, so he introduced him to the women.

The gentleman, who happened to be a widower, had the seat right next to the widowed sister in law. The two of them hit it off very well. Six months later they were making wedding plans!

Not until then did the widow learn that her brother in law had bought ALL FIVE TICKETS, and seated her right next to his friend.

Wouldn't you say this was a lot better than trying to arrange a blind date?

IT HAPPENED IN HOUSTON DEAR ABBY: Much! Had the brother in law asked his friend if he wanted to meet a nice widow, the friend would probably have said, "No thanks,

I know enough widows." And if he asked his sister in law if she wanted to go out with a nice gentleman, she probably would have asked, "How tall is he?"

DEAR ABBY: As a man who takes pride in his cooking ability, I think you blew it in your answer to "NEW IN TOWN," the hostess who served a delicious dessert and didn't want to give out the recipe.

(You said, "Share") To an accomplished cook a special recipe is very much like a "secret formula" for a masterpiece. By giving it to just anyone, this woman will cheapen her own worth as a cook because her formula may fall into the hands of someone who is totally lacking in the art of cookery.

Her answer should have been a decisive, "I never give out my recipes!"

JAMIL S. IN M.Y.C. DEAR JAMIL: I disagree. I say, give the recipe to whomever wants it, and if the recipient is "totally lacking in the art of cookery," he will cook his own goose - in schmalz!

DEAR ABBY: I just read an article in the newspaper about a woman who spoke up at a gathering of the nation's weathermen saying she didn't like the idea of naming hurricanes after women. She said she thought that was just another way of putting women down.

Well, I don't agree with her at all. I think it's rather exciting to have a hurricane named after you. And I think every woman secretly hopes that her name will be chosen for the next hurricane. What do you think?

HURRICANE NANCY DEAR NANCY: I admit, I didn't mind when HURRICANE ABBY was in the headlines, but I was soon replaced with HURRICANE BERTHA. (Ah, the fleeting quality of fame!)

Airline Bomb Hoax Calls Drop Slowly

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

The Federal Aviation Administration forecast a moderate improvement in the outlook for flying security for the week-end while airports and airlines stepped up measures to combat bomb threats.

"It looks like the trouble may be winding down," an FAA spokesman said.

By 6 p.m. EST Friday the FAA had registered about 20 telephone threats of bombings or hijackings around the nation for the day. This compared with 48 on Thursday, 24 on Wednesday, and eight on Tuesday.

Most were clearly hoaxes, the FAA said, but all were checked out in the interest of public safety.

The threats followed three incidents earlier in the week in which explosives actually were placed on aircraft. Two devices were recovered before exploding, but the other detonated, badly damaging a parked jetliner at Las Vegas, Nev.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe prepared for a session next week to discuss stricter air security measures with Cabinet members.

Volpe conferred with airline executives Friday before leaving for a weekend speaking engagement in Mexico City.

Meantime, airlines and airport operators moved to implement stricter security measures ordered by President Nixon and being drafted in the form of regulations by the FAA.

The Air Line Pilots Association welcomed the President's action.

Wrong Pill Brings $29,000 Award

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP) — A Long Island woman who was given nasal decongestant tablets instead of birth control pills by a druggist has been awarded $29,000 in damages, most of it to cover the costs of raising a son.

A Suffolk County jury awarded the sum Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kuhns of Brentwood, who had sued for $6 million after Mrs. Kuhns became pregnant and delivered a boy. He is now 5.

The pharmacist said he misread the physician's handwriting and gave the woman Novahistine, which helps clear nasal passages, instead of Norlestrin, a birth control pill.

U.S. Steel Producers Face Bigger Flow Of Imports

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—American steel producers are concerned over January imports of 1.1 million net tons of steel and that no voluntary restraint agreement has been reached to limit steel imports, Industry Week magazine said today.

The January import figure was considered "abnormally high for a year lacking threat of a domestic steel strike," the business weekly said, noting that imports topped the previous January by 40 per cent.

It said that "a continued high import level would kill" domestic producers' expectations that steel imports would fall back to "about 16 million net tons this year from 1971's record 18.3 million tons."

"While imports from both Japan and the EEC (European Economic Community) declined about 22 per cent from a year earlier in 1972's first month, those from other countries rose nine per cent," the magazine said.

One bright spot in the steel picture, Industry Week said, was the abandonment of foreign imports of the production of low-priced Class C steel sheet used by automakers.

The magazine also noted that automakers have made increasing rush orders to fill inventory gaps and that demand "from the appliance industry continues good".

Industry Week estimated raw steel production from domestic mills at 2,510,000 net tons in the week ended March 11, compared with 2,487,000 tons the previous week.

Industry Week's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steelmaking scrap continues to rise. It stood at $36 per gross ton last week, up from $35.67 the previous week.

AEC Plans Atom Plant Hearing

CINCINNATI (AP) — Persons who wish to testify at a public hearing on the issuance of a federal license to build a nuclear power plant at Moscow, Ohio, must apply in writing to the Atomic Energy Commission before April 6.

The AEC has not yet set the date or place of the hearing but it was expected sometime in June.

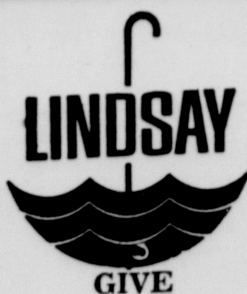

The AEC said Friday that witnesses must specify whether they intend to make a "limited appearance or petition for leave to intervene."

Limited appearance witnesses may state a position or raise questions.

Intervenor become part of the proceedings with the right to cross examine witnesses, the AEC said.

The $21 million William H. Zimmer Nuclear Power Station was planned at Moscow, Ohio, on the Ohio River in Clermont County, 25 miles southeast of Cincinnati.

Construction is to be financed jointly by the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co., the Dayton Power & Light Co. and the Columbus & Southern Electric Co.

The standard deduction is up this year. But maybe you should itemize.

Your best buddy Lenny might have told you to itemize your deductions because it would save you more tax dollars.

Your neighbor possibly suggested taking the standard deduction because you'd pay less taxes that way.

And Frank down at the office . . . he helps everybody with their return . . . what did Frank recommend?

If there's some way to save you money on your income tax, H & R Block will know how to do it.

Itemized and standard deductions are nothing new. We've been preparing returns for years using both. We'll figure out your situation both ways and then prepare your return using the method that's best for you.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it yourself (with advice maybe from some other amateur), you can have your tax return prepared with complete confidentiality by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices.

Each member of H & R Block is warm, friendly and anxious to help you. A visit to H & R Block usually takes just a short time. Once in our office, you sit down over a free cup of coffee and possibly learn things about your income tax that you never knew existed. Things that we know, because income tax returns are our only business.

H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

It means that H & R Block also offers you year 'round tax service for just one low fee, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

Yes, it's true. The standard deduction is up this year.

It's one of the many things we'll consider when we do your return.

Sudan Emerges

Sudan is a country which rarely succeeds in vying for world attention with other lands where conflicts of varying origins and intensities have raged through recent history. Yet the Sudanese people may be setting an example for many others.

During each of the 16 years since independence in 1156, Sudan has been at war with itself. It has not been a series of minor skirmishes. Estimates of the loss of life between the northern Moslems and the southern tribesmen range up to half a million persons.

The devastation to a country with potentially rich resources has been great. It may be possible now for those resources to be developed.

President Gaafar al-Nimeiry has reached an agreement with the rebels under which the southern provinces would gain greater autonomy while working with the majority from the north toward greater national unity.

If the accord holds, Sudan's decade and a half of self-destruction may be over. Time will tell. The emergence of a desire by both parties to put an end to the costly insanity is a promising sign.

Communication Rarity

It is becoming something of a mark of distinction to receive a letter these days. Not a business letter, but a personal letter from a friend who simply felt like writing you a letter.

Several things work against this sort of intimate communication in modern society. One is the telephone. Then, too, everybody seems too busy to sit still long enough to write a letter. And some seem to fall asleep if they sit down that long.

Another contributor to the communication gap is the postage stamp. It still serves more or less the same purpose it always did and some of the periodic changes in design are not that objectionable.

But the cost is something else. Postage stamps today are worth at least their weight in silver, if not gold. They have come a long way in a short while, denominationally. Too far to use indiscriminately.

A Brief Opening

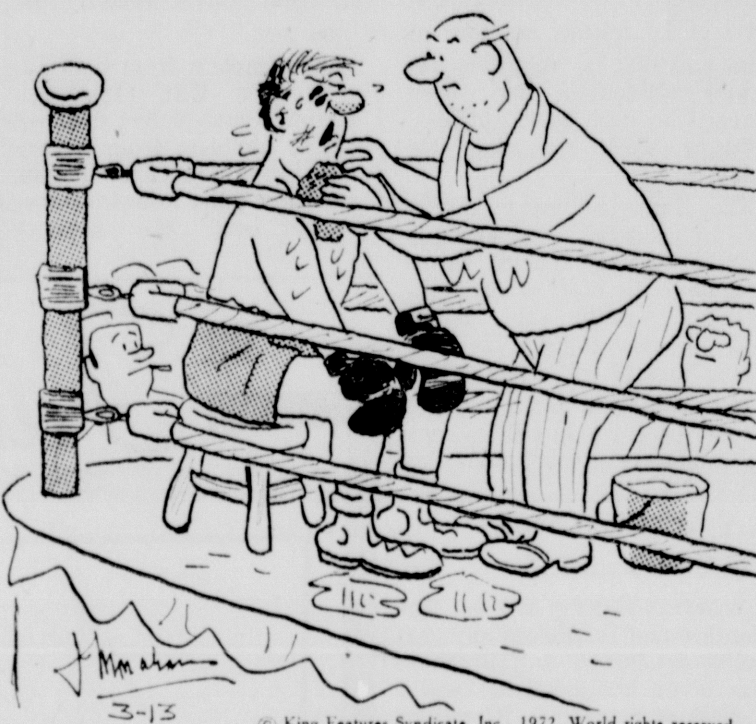

East Germany's decision to open the Berlin wall during the Easter holiday went almost unnoticed. It is a gesture which will be appreciated by the divided families and friends in Germany who will be able to meet with one another briefly.

But opening the gates of a prison for a few days is not the same as freeing the prisoners or at least providing visiting rights. The wall will be closed again as it has been many times in the past. The brief respite will be that and nothing more.

The wall no longer brings forth the public outcries it once did. It is a private anguish now, suffered almost in silence by those whose lives are rerouted and made unhappy because of it. The wall remains, and an occasional burst of sunlight cannot erase the inhumanity of its purpose.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

While in France recently I was sick and was treated with drugs that cannot be bought in the U.S. Why are such good drugs not available here?

Mrs. K.B., Pa. Dear Mrs. B.: Many excellent drugs used in foreign countries may be called by a different name here. The basic chemical ingredients may be the same, but their trade names are different.

Another factor may be that the Food and Drug Administration, our national protective organization, has not yet approved a particular drug. Only by such care can the American public be spared the dangers of "premature" over-enthusiasm for drugs whose safety has not yet been proved entirely safe.

Some countries are less critical of new drugs than are our health agencies. Such extra care spares all of us from the toxic effects and hazards of new and experimental drugs.

One of my friends was told that she had inflammation of the leg veins because she wears boots. This doesn't seem to make sense. Does it?

Miss F. W., Ill. Dear Miss W.: It sounds strange, but there is real truth to the possibility that tight constructing boots may be the cause of some cases of phlebitis, or inflammation of the veins of the leg.

I recall that this very condition was first recognized by Dr. Paul Steel of New Jersey. He called attention to this oddity in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

It seems that the new-style, high constructing boots may be too tight above the calf, irritate the skin and slow the blood circulation. Phlebitis may result. This concept deserves consideration especially if cramps, tingling sensations and coldness follow the use of new boots.

The condition is similar to that which occurs when people sit in one position for long periods of time at work, in a car or in a plane.

Is it possible to spot-reduce one or more parts of the body by massage or machines?

Mrs. E. E. H., W. Va. Dear Mrs. H.: According to a recent scientific report, doubt has been cast on this notion. It seems that the study indicated that exercise can and does reduce the total body fat, but that spot-reducing really has little or no value.

Since it is not dangerous and it may offer some psychological benefit to those who enjoy trying to spot-reduce, there is no reason to discontinue doing so.

Splits In Half PORT JEFFERSON, N. Y. (AP) — A $12 million nine-month-old 34,000 ton oil tanker, Martha R. Ingram, split in half and began sinking as she pulled away from the dock here after unloading a cargo of gasoline and No. 2 fuel oil.

Only 200 gallons of gasoline spilled into the harbor and it quickly evaporated. There were no injuries among the 14 crewmen.

Performance Teaching

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) recently dashed the hopes of a good many people by reporting that the teaching of reading in the public schools by private performance contractors has been a flop. If this is true, we have seen a federally funded $7 million experiment go down the drain. We must also face up to the fact that neither the Office of Education nor the OEO has any other promising arrow left in the teaching quiver. Must we, then, tack the lugubrious sign, "Abandon hope, all ye who enter here," over every ghetto first-grade classroom, with the full knowledge that some kids are permanently uneducable in reading?

I would probably believe so if I hadn't been witness to "performance contract" teaching in a Bronx school in New York City. The system paid particular attention to stragglers. Fortunately for the hopes of our so-called disadvantaged children, the Office of Economic Opportunity is not blessed with sharp analysts. In reporting on the record of performance contracts, the OEO failed to distinguish between those that came about because of Washington's initiative and those that had been started because of the get-up-and-go of local school boards.

The OEO's own contracts were limited to 18 school districts. In the 54 school districts in 24 states that have tried performance contracting on their own, the results are by no means as discouraging as the OEO report would imply.

The OEO had been contradicted in advance by news stories in the New York Times of successful performance contracting in Gary, Ind., and in Philadelphia. In these two cities, the Behavioral Research Laboratories of Palo Alto, Calif., working on a "money back" guaranteed reading program, have brought enough below-average pupils up to national norms to make it a profitable business both for themselves and for the children.

This is the way the New York Times reported it. But beyond this, there is the far more extensive independent report of the Rand Corporation, based on a study of performance contracting by private companies in Gary, Ind., Norfolk, Va., Texarkana, Ark., Gilroy, Calif., and Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Rand report lists progress in schools in all five communities, calling the gains "generally respectable" even though they failed to come up to contractor expectations in Gilroy, Texarkana, and Norfolk. (In some cases there had been obviously unrealistic predictions that students would gain two grade levels in a single year.)

The Texarkana program was more or less a failure, but the gains in Gary and in Grand Rapids were more than satisfactory. "Unusually good" is the description the Rand report uses for Gary's Banneker Elementary School, where the contracting company was responsible for the entire curriculum, and could "concentrate heavily on reading and math."

The differences between the OEO and the Rand judgments could point to several things.

If the 13,000 children funded by the OEO showed no identifiable gains over children in ordinary classes, it could mean that OEO is a poor judge of performance contractors. Or it could mean that the private contractors, lacking responsibility for such things as training the teachers and "paraprofessionals" for putting the systems into effect, did not have a sufficiently free hand. Even in the case of the Banneker School in Gary, the Teachers Union and the State Board of Education tried to interpose some road blocks before the experiment in contract teaching could, at the insistence of a local school board, get off the ground.

The differences between the OEO and the Rand reports would seem to prove that Washington will bungle where a Gary, Ind., or a Grand Rapids, Mich., school system, making decision on its own initiative, will succeed. What the Rand report implies is that things move best when decisions are left in local hands.

MARCH 1947
25 Years Ago

As March began, road crews were busy sanding streets and roads to make driving a little safer for travelers who were making their way through the snow. The weather, registering 30 degrees at its highest, prompted one person to note that March came in like a snowman and not the proverbial lion.

William B. Watts, E. Mound St., observed the 45th anniversary of his appointment as rural mail carrier out of the Circleville Post Office. The 66-year-old man recalled his first day on the job — in March, 1902 — took place in the horse and buggy days. He graduated from animal power to motorcycle in the summer but returned to the horse and wagon in winter until he got his first automobile.

Jerold Frederick Brown was the first baby born in March in Berger Hospital to Circleville parents. The 8-pound 4-ounce baby was the child of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Frederick Brown Jr.

Robert C. Smith, E. Main St. sailor, became Circleville's first resident to visit the Antarctic and brought back tales of ice and snow, icebergs, albatrosses and whales. He was a member of the crew of the airplane carrier, Philippine Sea, which took Admiral Richard E. Byrd and most of the planes used in the Antarctic exploring to the Bay of Whales.

Ralph Fausnaugh, 34, former Pickaway Countian and brother of Clydus Fausnaugh, Elm Ave., was one of three persons missing and believed dead in the wreckage of the Producers Creamery and Cold Storage Plant, Greenville, which was destroyed by two explosions.

After deliberating more than six hours, the jury was unable to agree on the guilt or innocence of Perry Stout, Scioto Twp. farmer who admittedly killed three valuable hunting dogs. Possibility of a second trial was not immediately determined. Stout had been charged with malicious destruction of property by both dog owners.

Mrs. Nettie R. Brehmer, wife of Robert L. Brehmer, died at the age of 60 in her home on N. Court St. She had been married nearly 32 years to the greenhouse owner.

In a special session of the Ohio Supreme Court in Columbus March 6, Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant administered the oath as 25 central Ohioans — including William Ammer — were admitted to the practice of law. Ammer, 27, had received his law degree from OSU in December, 1946.

A bulletin issued by the Bureau of Census disclosed that Pickaway was the fourth largest hog county in Ohio and the 93rd in the United States. Madison County ranked first in Ohio and sixth in the U.S. The county's hog population at that time was reported as 72,793.

Eighteen high school students walked out on strike at the Darby Twp. school. The group — more boys than girls and mostly sophomores — had apparently become aroused by hearing of student strikes at West Jefferson and other cities, although they voiced no special grievances in their own walkout. Superintendent McDowell reported the offenders had been suspended from classes for three days.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

It isn't so easy to get away from it all. Only one out of nine suicide attempts in the United States is successful.

Nothing is more taxing than governments. Of the 21 states holding legislative sessions in 1972, some 21 are now considering proposals calling for a total increase of $7 billion in new taxes.

You are one man in a hundred if you can name the car and the driver who made the first automobile trip across the United States. Col. H. Nelson Jackson drove the vehicle—a two-cylinder, chain-drive Winton—from San Francisco to New York in 1903 in 63 days.

Thanks to an increasing public consciousness, litterbugs are being forced to pay for their sins. A recent survey showed that 76 per cent of people arrested for littering were subsequently convicted.

Quotable notables: "Perhaps it would be a good idea, fantastic as it sounds, to muffle every telephone, stop every motor and halt all activity for an hour some day, to give people a chance to ponder for a few minutes on what it is all about, why they are living and what they really want."—James Truslow Adams.

Pass the aqua: Who are the thirstiest drinkers on earth? Well, if you're speaking of water drinkers, the road workers in the French Sahara probably are. They are issued a ration of two gallons of water per man each day.

Expensive: Air pollution isn't costly to cities alone. It also causes an estimated damage of $280 million a year to U.S. farm crops.

Body bends: The system of limbering up exercises which the Chinese call Tai Chi has some exotic names to describe the postures: "Left Hand Grasping Sparrow's Tail," "Twin Peaks Piercing Ears," "Golden Pheasant Standing on One Leg," and "As Closing Door."

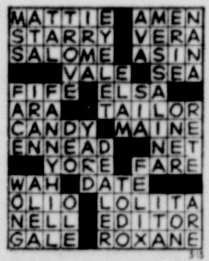

Sick, sick: Some 20 million people in the United States—nearly one out of every 10—suffer some form of mental or emotional illness requiring psychiatric help. Half a million of these are children, some only two or three years old.

Worth remembering: "Have you ever noticed the way a neighbor will stand talking at the front door for 35 minutes, because she doesn't have enough time to come in?"

It was Oscar Wilde who said, "Niagara Falls is simply a vast unnecessary amount of water going the wrong way and then falling over unnecessary rocks."

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "Bonanza," which keeps rolling along comfortably season after season, is long on human drama and a certain amount of nonviolent action. Only occasionally does it strike out into the tricky mine fields of broad comedy.

It did just that Sunday night with a wild west version of "The Gang That Couldn't Shoot Straight," a tall tale of three would-be badmen who just couldn't do anything right.

When they practiced target shooting with bottles lined up on a fence, they shot down the fence without touching a single bottle. When they robbed a bank and a stagecoach, all they got were sacks of letters. When they wanted to give themselves up to the sheriff, they had to dynamite the jail door to get in.

What made the hour of special interest was that it was both written and directed by Michael Landon, the actor who plays the younger of the two Cartwright boys. Landon was playing fast and loose with some famous names—his bumbling badmen were the notorious Younger brothers, but he had them acting a lot more like the Ritz Brothers.

When "Bonanza" does decide to get funny, Dan Blocker, the outside actor who plays Hoss Cartwright, invariably has the heavy role. This time he was kidnaped, tossed in jail and just looked bewildered most of the time.

The same network's "Comment" on Sunday afternoon has returned quietly for a second season to replace football. It continues to be an interesting half hour of off-beat opinion and explanation.

This week Composer Aaron Copland explained that the "serious composer" seeks to express an idea or create a mood by "using the language of music." This, he said, is not as easy as it seems, sometimes involving evoking a mood or idea for "perhaps a half hour using an orchestra that might consist of 100 men."

Synthetic Gas Sites Discussed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A study by the American Gas Association of the best locations for plants to make synthetic gas from coal has listed sites in Kentucky.

The Louisville Courier-Journal in its editions today quoted an unnamed Interior Department official as saying the 1970 study found likely locations in both the eastern and western parts of the state. The official would not elaborate.

The process and plants could provide a significant economic boost to Kentucky, the nation's leading coal-producing state, because of the increased markets for coal.

Dinner Held For Brown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Organizers of an appreciation dinner held Saturday night for Atty. Gen. William Brown say they expect to clear about $50,000.

Proceeds are to be used for personal expenses Brown and his aides incur on political and nonofficial business.

State officials attending the $100-a-plate dinner along with about 650 other persons included Treasurer Gertrude Donahy and Auditor Joseph Ferguson. Gov. John Gilligan was in Cleveland for a speaking engagement.

Brown outlined for the gathering his accomplishments in his first year in office and said more needs to be done in the areas of air and water pollution, drugs, consumer protection and corruption.

"I have no doubt that problems will arise," Brown said, "but I am equally confident that the attorney general's office is more than equal to any of the tasks which lie before us."

After Living In Convent Author Tells Of Her Life

OUT IN THE WORLD — Nancy Henderson, after living in a convent for five years, left the Missionary Sisters of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary without taking her final vows. She is married now, has written one book and is working on another.

By PEACE MOFFAT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Nancy Henderson is a poised, well-dressed 23-year-old woman who fits with ease now into a world from which she was cut off during five years in a convent.

But when she left the Missionary Sisters of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary at age 23 without taking her final vows she was frightened of getting on a train, didn't know how to shop or handle money, was unable to make small talk and unaware of news events.

She had, however, attended Rosemont College for one year while in the convent, and was able to get a scholarship to Bryn Mawr after she left. She graduated summa cum laude with honors in philosophy.

"You don't make a transition immediately of finding out what the world is like," she said on a visit to New York for the publication of the book she wrote about her life as a nun, "Out of the Curtained World."

"When I first left, I stayed with a family that had five children and I was supposed to take care of them for room and board," she relates. "That was demanding enough, but coming out of the convent I was so accustomed to quiet and routine I couldn't handle it. So I went to live with a different family and got room and board for doing housework."

"I had no idea at all of the value of money," she goes on. "I had to borrow $500 and it was really frightening. And I had forgotten how to make light conversation. At the convent we had silence during meals, and on the occasions when permission was given to speak it just seemed impossible to talk and eat at the same time."

Married four years now, Mrs. Henderson met her husband Bill soon after she left the convent. It was he who suggested she write a book about her experiences, but when she first began she had not been out of that "curtained world" long enough to have any perspective on it.

"I was still plagued by nightmares," she recalls. A few years later, however, she and her husband rented a house in Normandy, France, and she finished the book in 11 months.

Mrs. Henderson explains that she had wanted to be a nun from the time she was in the fourth grade. "I was raised a Roman Catholic and I went to a Catholic school and the nuns were always encouraging me to think I had a vocation," she elaborates.

Mrs. Henderson says her reasons for leaving the convent are complicated, but central in her decision was the theory of obedience, by which a nun does whatever she is directed to do by her superior in the order. "I don't want a person giving me a set of rules to live by, so then I can feel good about following them. I want to assume responsibility for my own judgment and for the moral choices I make based on that judgment," she says.

"I rejected the Catholic Church almost immediately after I left, and contrary to my first expectations I wasn't immediately struck down by lightning."

She and her husband are not practicing any organized religion now, she says, but Mrs. Henderson says she has no regrets about her five convent years. "Had I not gone into the convent," she points out, "I could always have lived with a burden of guilt that I didn't do what God wanted me to do. Also I learned how to think and concentrate, and some good

Special programs are available for girls who have completed the fourth grade. Girls who bring their own bikes may take short trips out of camp. A bike trip for girls who have finished at least the 5th grade will be conducted along the Little Miami River Scenic Bikeway with visits to historical points of interest and other camps.

Other special programs designed for older girls will be: one session with emphasis on music and drama, two sessions for advanced camping skills, one session for a backpacking trip along part of the Buckeye or Logan Trail, one session on outdoor cookery, one session called Mermaid with emphasis on synchronized swimming, and one session called Night Owls which will allow girls to stay up later at night for nature study and sleep later the next day.

There will be five sessions at both camps beginning July 2 and ending August 26th. Resident camp is open to non-scouts.

Day Camp is planned at Camp Miska for June 19-22 and June 26-29. At Day Camp, Brownies make friends with girls from other troops, learn how to appreciate and care for the outdoor world and to be comfortable in it. They will learn outdoor skills such as fire building and cooking, and crafts will make use of natural materials. Juniors work in patrols and have an opportunity to work on badges. LONDON (AP) — British army bandmen are to lose their tiger and leopard skins — to support wildlife and save money. In the future, drummers in the army's 75 bands will wear nylon fabricated copies of the skin aprons.

Black 'National Assembly' Readies Demands

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
GARY, Ind. (AP) — The first National Black Political Convention has concluded an at times angry, at times wildly enthusiastic, meeting. Left as its most visible accomplishment was the creation of a new black political movement. Whether "The National Assembly," as the new movement was tentatively called, might eventually evolve into a third political party no one could say. But great things were predicted for its future. "All of these seeds have begun to come together and germinate into one flower," said Chicago's Rev. Jesse Jackson, comparing the new movement to independent black state political movements in South Carolina, Mississippi and Alabama. "If we do nothing else today," Jackson said, "we will have made a revolutionary step toward a black political nation in this country and in the world." A combination of unexpectedly hot debates and long, confusing parliamentary wrangles on the convention floor left one of the three-day assembly's main tasks unfinished at the closing session Sunday night—adoption of resolutions. A compromise motion from New York brought together in the convention's interim report all resolutions proposed by state delegations and left the final decisions on policy to a steering committee which will meet later. The compromise motion was offered and adopted after part of the 254-man Michigan delegation had walked out and part of the Illinois group threatened to do the same. But it put the convention on record as tentatively adopting both sides of several controversial issues, including for and against integrated schools. It also put the convention against the endorsement of any political candidate for president, but for the presidential bid of Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y.

"People are tired now," said Rep. Charles Diggs of Michigan. "We are forgetting what we already agreed to . . . No matter how they look today, the final agenda coming up May 19 will not be the same documents."

He said an earlier vote gave a steering committee of 50 state delegation chairmen plus a few others the authority to rewrite and resolve all conflicts in the list of final resolutions, to be released on the birthday of the late Malcolm X, May 19, and to "ratify that document in the name of the convention."

Another document, a National Black Agenda calling for a "permanent political movement that addresses itself to basic control and reshaping of American institutions" also was adopted tentatively.

"The unifying objective of this political movement must be the empowerment of the black community, not simply its representatives," the agenda said. "It must offer basic alternatives to all the existing American political, economic and cultural systems."

The agenda's list of basic recommendations included:

- Black representation in both the Senate and House in ratio to the 15 per cent black population of the nation, with the same principle applied to state and local governments.
- Reparations to blacks in the form of real estate and cash.
- The formation of black unions as an alternative to labor organizations which practice racial discrimination.
- An urban homestead act to keep federally owned housing projects and lands from passing into commercial ownership.
- Free public education, national health insurance and day care centers.
- Black-owned systems of communications for black communities.
- A 50 per cent cut in the national defense and space budgets.
- An end to U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.
- Formation of a national foreign policy which would "further the progress of the revolutionary movement in Africa . . . and assist African countries in their move toward meaningful political independence."

NEBRASKA GRANGE

Worthy Lecturer, Joseph C. Peters, related interesting Irish history and commented on St. Patrick's Day at the regular March meeting of Nebraska Grange held in the Grange Hall. Mrs. Fred Hedges read an interesting news item relating to the work of a Licking County Grange.

During the business meeting conducted by Master Ray Noecker, a contribution was made to the Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Also, a contribution was sent to the Ohio State Grange Youth Fund.

At the regular April 4 meeting the Pickaway County Grange Youth will be in charge of the program. Silver Star Certificates will be presented at the April meeting also to four members who have been continuous Grange members for 25 years.

A good attendance is desired. Serving on the April committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dresbach, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scothorn, Mr. Herman Berger, Mrs. Helen Beck, Mr. Gene Houser and Mrs. Florence Peters.

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served in the dining room by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peters.

PICKAWAY GRANGE YOUTH

The Pickaway Grange Youth recently met at the home of Harold Furniss to make plans for spring and summer activities. Members of four subordinate granges were in attendance.

The youth are currently visiting the granges and helping with the lecturers programs at the close of the business sessions. All the programs are being directed by Joan Dawson.

Directors, Bob and Diana Lands, reported on their recent trip to the Young Marrieds Conference held in northern Ohio. They were sponsored by the local youth organization.

Following the meeting Barbara McKenzie conducted games won by Eloise and Paul Dunkle, and Kate Bidwell. The next meeting will be April 9, at the home of Phil and Wilma Judy.

OIL CONTROL — U.S. Coast Guard boats use a rubber fence to corral 25,000 gallons of soybean oil they dumped in the Pacific Ocean about 40 miles west of Santa Barbara, Calif. The Coast Guard hopes to have the new oil slick control operational by mid-1973. Spokesmen said the test was successful.

Ohio Highway Toll 17 On Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Springlike weather over the weekend drew Ohioans out on the streets and highways, where 17 died in traffic accidents.

Two of the deaths involved motorcycles, one was a young boy hit while riding his bicycle and three were pedestrians. The toll included two double-fatality accidents, one Saturday in Cincinnati and another Sunday in Ashtabula County. The weekend death count tied with the last weekend of February as the second worst of the year. But it contrasted with last weekend when only four were killed, a seven-year record low.

The count fell far shy of the second weekend of March in 1971 when 26 died, the worst non-holiday traffic record of the year.

The Dead: AKRON — Alan Heller, 26, of Coventry Township, when his car went out of control on South Turkey Foot Road in the Portage Lakes area and hit a tree.

SATURDAY

MT. VERNON — Mabel Soles, 46, of Mt. Vernon, when hit by a car on Ohio 3, north of Mt. Vernon.

PORTSMOUTH — Joseph J. Hornung, 4, of West Portsmouth, when hit by a car on Galina Pike in Scioto County.

STEUBENVILLE — Gary A. Williams, 29, Smithfield, when his car failed to make a curve on Piney Ford Road near his home and crashed over an embankment.

CINCINNATI — Delores Hill, 30, and her daughter, Carmen Glover, 13, of Cincinnati, when their car went out of control and struck a utility pole in suburban Springfield Township.

ALLIANCE — William Wright, 20, of Chesterland, a Mount Union College student, when the car in which he was riding crashed into a tree in Alliance.

ALLIANCE — Robert J. McGraw, 7, of Alliance, when his bicycle was hit by a car on a Stark County road.

URBANA — Louella Davis, no age listed, of St. Paris, when the car she was driving slammed into a bridge abutment in Champaign County southwest of Urbana.

TOLEDO — Mrs. Frances Pickard, 25, when the car her husband was driving was involved in a three-car smashup in the Village of Northwood east of Toledo.

SUNDAY

MANSFIELD — Carl Joel Nelson, 74, Greenwich, in a one-car crash on Ohio 13, 12 miles north of Mansfield.

ASHTABULA — Carmen Christopher, 68, and Florence Christopher, 62, both of Wickliffe in Lake County, in a two-car crash at an Ashtabula County intersection.

JACKSON — Charles T. Swint, 13, of Oak Hill, Jackson County, when his mini bike was struck by a car on Ohio 93 two miles north of Oak Hill.

COLUMBUS — Thomas McGaughy, 32, Columbus, when he lost control of his motorcycle on a curve and it flipped three times and smashed into a parked car.

CLEVELAND — James Fimal, 24, of suburban Maple Heights, in a two-car crash at the intersection of Ohio 17 and Ohio 21 in Valley View.

DAYTON — David Johnson, 17, of New Carlisle, who was in the Army and stationed at Ft. Carson, Colo., when hit by a car on Ohio 235 in Montgomery County.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

A flash flood watch was issued today for Hocking, Athens and Washington counties because of the threat of heavy rains in southern Ohio.

Showers and thundershowers were reported around the state Sunday night and this morning. A front that moved southward across the state Sunday and currently is stationary along southern Ohio is responsible for the precipitation.

A low pressure system will move eastward across Ohio Tuesday, bringing an end to the precipitation by Tuesday night.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Mostly cloudy with showers and scattered thundershowers tonight and Tuesday. Highs from the low 40s north to the 60s south. Lows tonight from the mid 30s to low 50s.

WEST CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL, SOUTHWEST — Cloudy and mild with showers and scattered thundershowers tonight and Tuesday. Highs from the mid 50s to mid 60s. Lows tonight from the mid 40s to low 50s.

CENTRAL, SOUTHEAST — Mostly cloudy and mild with showers and scattered thundershowers tonight and Tuesday. Highs from the mid 50s to low 60s. Lows tonight from the mid 40s to low 50s.

Clever Young Girl

BLETCHLEY, England (AP) — A police detective's daughter, Angela Williams, 3, learned how to track down a lost doll — draw a police identi-kit-type picture, have it published in the local paper.

That's what she did when she lost her favorite doll, Susie, while shopping with her mother. Only hours after the crude drawing of Susie appeared in the paper, someone returned it to little Angela.

The first "lounge flight" was logged Jan. 19, 1937 when a DC3 plane carried a full load of 14 passengers on a historic one-stop flight from Chicago to New York.

Solo, Ensemble Contest Results

Solo and Ensemble Contest, sponsored by the Ohio Music Education Association, was held February 26 at the Ohio State University. Competition is divided into three classes, depending on the difficulty of the piece. A rating of superior, excellent, good, fair, or poor is given to each performance.

In Class A competition, the most difficult, Vicki Stoer rated solo. Diane Snyder received a John Myers on french horn, superior on an E flat clarinet solo. The brass quintet, composed of Mark Hosler and Karen Fausnaugh on cornet, John Myers on french horn, Judy Schein on baritone, and Randy Smith on tuba, also earned a superior on their piece entitled "Sonata No. 2".

In Class B competition, the percussion ensemble composed of Tanis Galloway, Barb Justus, Kelly Steinhauer, and Rick Metzger earned a superior. Marilyn Keller, Chris Hansen, Becki Easterday, and Cheryl Miller received an excellent in a clarinet quartet.

Those students receiving a superior of excellent in class A competition were awarded medals. Class B winners received certificates.

Mr. James Kibby, band director, was very pleased with the performances of his students. All are to be congratulated!

Nobel Sought Peace
WASHINGTON (AP) — The founder of the most renowned peace prize wanted to make war so horrible man would never take up arms again.

Alfred Nobel, whose annual prizes are financed by a fortune based on his invention of dynamite, once said: "I wish I could produce a substance or invent a machine of such frightful efficacy for wholesale destruction that wars should thereby become altogether impossible."

The Swedish inventor and semi-recluse put his brooding thoughts that way to an Austrian noblewoman, Bertha von Suttner, a life-long friend and a champion of peace movements during the period of aggressive imperialism that led up to World War I.

WHS Learns Creativity

Be creative! This is a familiar statement heard by thirty-five students under the supervision of Mrs. Janet Baker, English teacher.

Mrs. Baker instructed the creative writing seminar held 45 minutes after school hours for one week. The students did anything from finger painting to writing a story from fifteen association words. The class wrote papers that were inspired by posters and various songs. The pupils also enjoyed several movies showing how creative one can be.

Homework consisted of composing paragraphs and anything else you wished to turn in. Mrs. Baker read all the papers noting our mistakes and how one could improve his writing ability. None of the work was mandatory nor did you receive a grade, but was noted on your permanent records. The best papers will be entered in a Creative Writing Contest held at Westfall High School.

Most students found this course very beneficial and hope to see more studies of this sort offered in the future.

Baseball Team Spring Training

Baseball season has opened! Coach Paul Hoskins, hoping for an SVC win, had a good turnout. They have planned twenty-seven games, not counting tournament games. Their first rival will be Circleville, March 29th and then getting off good will be a double header, April 1 at Huntington.

Working is what it is going to take and they all plan on doing just that.

Good luck baseball team!

Students Enjoy 'Romeo And Juliet'

Members of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes of Westfall H.S. recently journeyed to Otterbein College to see the famous Shakespearean play, "Romeo and Juliet."

The play was excellent and all of the students enjoyed it. Many thanks to Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Roush, English teachers, who made this trip possible.

The United States manned lunar landing program alone has cost $23 billion, says National Geographic.

CAROL ANDERSON

Miss Anderson WHS Student

This week's new student is Carol Anderson. Carol is a junior and previously attended Circleville High School. She now resides at Route 2, Circleville with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Anderson.

When asked her opinion of WHS, Carol replied, "It's small and strict, but the teachers and students are friendly."

Some of Carol's hobbies are knitting, baking, and keeping out of trouble.

Carol's likes are Randy Gilmore, movies, the color blue, pizza, weekends, and spring. Her dislikes are two-faced people, rain, exams, and being late.

Band Plans Pre-Contest Music Concert

The Westfall High School Band, under the direction of Mr. James Kibby, will hold a Mid-Winter Contest on March 15. Members will be playing three selections prepared for the District Contest to be held March 18 in Upper Arlington as well as several other light selections for your entertainment.

The March 18 Contest is sanctioned by the Ohio Music Education Association. Band members are looking for a "superior" rating so they may go on to state competition.

The high school chorus will also participate in the concert. An enjoyable program including songs such as "I Don't Know How to Love Him," from the rock concert Superstar, "For All We Know," a popular song by the Carpenters, and "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing" will be performed.

Proceeds from an admission charge will help fund various music department funds. Be there!

Westfall FFA Club Receives Superior Mark

Each year during the last two weeks of February, all F.F.A. Chapters in the state of Ohio meet to compare programs and present various members for proficiency awards. The District Evaluation Meeting was held February 23 at Northwestern Clark High School.

Many people have the idea that Vocational Agriculture concerns only farming. This is not true. Several areas under consideration for awards are evaluation of officers' books and placement in production which encompasses agriculture, sheep and crop production, and mechanics. Placement in processing includes soil, water and air management, horticulture, swine, beef, and dairy production. Placement in sales and service includes agricultural electrification and forest management.

The Westfall F.F.A. Chapter received a superior rating this year. Rocky Shannon, secretary of the Westfall Chapter, received a silver rating on his book. Bruce McFadden, a senior at WHS, submitted his application to the district. His application successfully passed the district and will go on to the state for more evaluation.

Similar awards to those mentioned are presented to F.F.A. members in the local chapters. These awards will be presented at the annual F.F.A. Banquet to be held March 16 at Westfall.

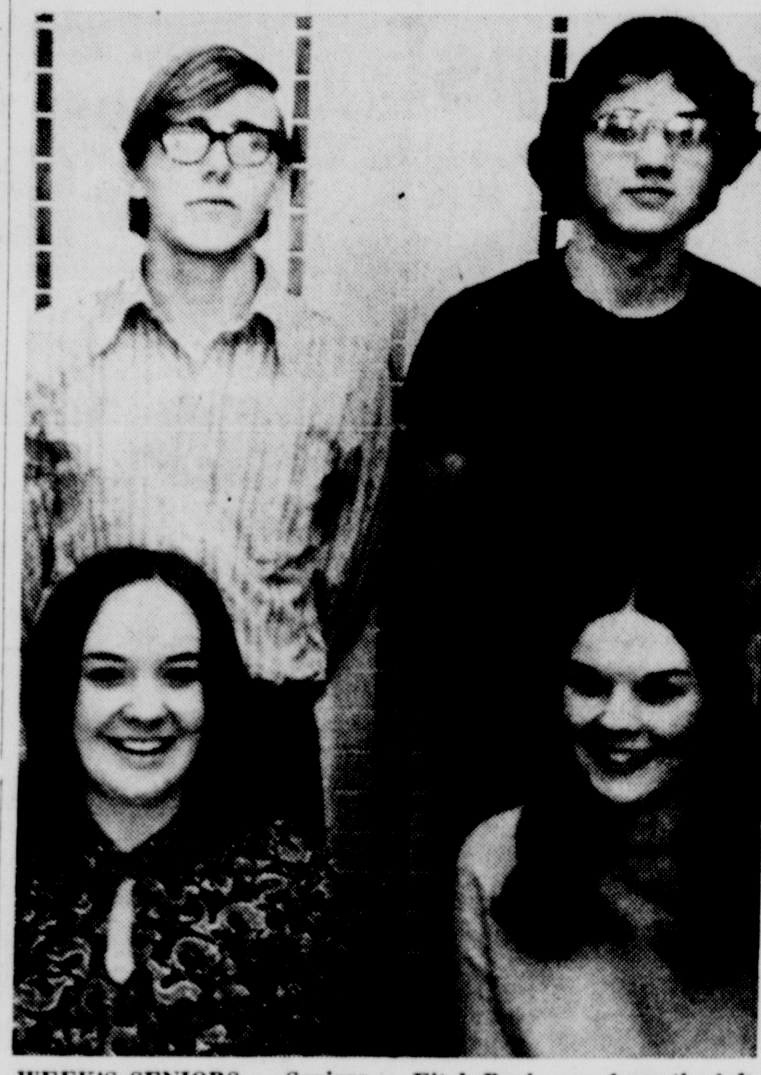

Students Hear Drug Problems

Students at Westfall recently attended a special assembly concerned with the drug problem in today's society. Mr. Mark Rivera, manager of Anchor House, which is located in Chillicothe, gave a very interesting account of his own personal experiences and told of the House itself.

Mr. Rivera was a one-time addict who told the students what it was really like trying to "kick the habit." He has spent five years working with young people and their problems.

Anchor House is located on Ohio University grounds. It caters to the needs of young people whether it be a drug problem, alcohol problem or any other problem of concern. Anchor House is open 24 hours a day and special meetings are held on Wednesday and Saturday. Anyone is free to come at any time.

Mustang Country Presents Four Seniors Of The Week

Rhonda is active in Drama Club and GAA. She is also a member of the Derby United Methodist Church in which she participates in the Senior Choir.

Rhonda likes being a senior, working in the office, meeting new people, working at the swimming pool, and rolling J.C. and J.M.'s houses. She is also interested in sports, cooking, poodles, and sewing because it's cheaper than buying the clothes. She dislikes snobby people, homework, short week-ends, and getting her house rolled.

Rhonda is presently enrolled in the business course of study and plans to get a secretarial job after graduation.

Susie Eitel, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Custer of Route 1, Orient.

Sometimes known as "Porky", she is a member of GAA, FBLA, and Latin Club.

Banquet Held For Westfall Basketballers

The 1971-72 basketball season has come to an end. All coaches, players, managers, and cheerleaders were honored at a carry-in banquet held at Westfall High School, March 9th.

The evening started out with everyone eating a hearty meal then enjoying the speaker, Mr. Phil Roach. The Jr. High basketball team, also participating in this event, was introduced first by their coach, Mr. Charles Tye. Mr. Charles Wilcox, freshman coach, came up next and introduced all his players and managers. Coach Tom Hamman, one of the eligible Pickaway County bachelors, introduced his gang of hard working J.V.'s. Last but not least, Coach Jeff Bigam, naming all his Varsity team. Those that played their last high school basketball game were: Doug McKay, John Scot Riddle, Tim Neff, Chuck Steinhauer, Tom Cook, John Valone, and Larry "Beef" Harris.

Those that are always forgotten until something needs to be done is the cheerleaders. The cheerleaders were also acknowledged and those that had cheered the crowd on for the last time were: Kim Long, Marilyn Keller, and Becky Shannon.

Davey Champ, Webb Runnerup In State Wrestling

WINNING STYLE — Mark Davey pins Kevin O'Brien in the finals of the Ohio High School Class A-AA wrestling tournament to take the state 185-pound title. Davey won four consecutive matches in the state competition.

Mark Davey, Circleville's 185-pound wrestler, was crowned state champion in his division Saturday after winning four consecutive matches in the state wrestling tournament at St. John Arena, Columbus.

Davey, the Tiger's 132-pounder, finished second in the state, winning three straight matches before being pinned in the championship bout.

Photos of the state wrestling tournament in Saturday's and today's edition of The Herald were taken by Bruce Rickerd, Circleville High School sophomore.

Mark Frericks, the Tiger heavyweight, did not get to wrestle anymore Saturday since the man he lost to on Friday lost his first match Saturday.

Davey and Webb this year set a new Circleville High School record for winning the most matches during a single season.

BOTH won 31 matches. Davey lost two this year and Webb four. Davey's three-year varsity record stands at 76 wins, nine losses and one tie. Twenty-three of his wins this year were by pins.

Enroute to his state title, Davey decided Randy Edwards of Warrensville High School, 7-5, and pinned Schmidt of Sandusky St. Mary in 46 seconds on Friday, and then Saturday defeated Steve Baker of Wooster Triway, 3-2, and pinned Kevin O'Brien of Chagrin Falls Kenston in 2:20.

Webb took decisions over Dave Wilson, 2-1, and Alvarez, 2-1, Friday and Malvin LeMaster of Ashland Crestview, 2-1, Saturday, but was pinned by Jerry Metcalf of Perrysburg in the final match.

Frericks decided Steve Weaver of Dayton Jefferson, 6-1, in his first match on Friday but then was pinned by W. Sennell in his second match. Sennell lost his first match on Saturday, eliminating Frericks from the tournament and a chance to try for the third position in the state.

Circleville, as a team, finished sixth in the state, scoring 30 points. Chagrin Falls Kenston won the state title scoring 61 points. Oregon

Cardinal Stritch was second with 44, Columbus DeSales was third with 42½, Carrollton was fourth with 31½, Jonathan Alder was fifth with 30½.

"We had a pretty good year," CHS wrestling coach Brent Bell said today — the understatement of the year. The Tigers were also the South Central Ohio League wrestling kings.

Davey is only the second Circleville High School boy to win a state title in recent years. Last fall Steve Richards won the state cross country title for the Red and Black.

SECOND — Dave Webb, the Circleville 132-pound wrestler, finished second in his division of the state wrestling tournament. Circleville scored 30 points in the meet for a sixth-place finish.

McLain, A's Hit By Brewers, 14-4

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain hasn't yet made the Oakland A's forget Vida Blue, but at the rate he's going he may make them forget Denny McLain.

The one-time Detroit 31-game winner made his debut with the A's Sunday—he was recently traded from the Texas Rangers—and was pounded for 10 runs and 10 hits in three innings of a 14-4 exhibition baseball loss to the Milwaukee Brewers.

The big damage was in the third inning when McLain was tagged for seven runs on three hits—including George Scott's 450-foot homer—four walks and a hit batsman.

The Brewers' assault on four Oakland pitchers also included two home runs by Tommy Reynolds and one by Billy Conigliaro and Rick Auerbach collected three hits and drove in four runs.

Another well-known right-hander fared somewhat better than McLain in his spring debut. Juan Marichal struck out the first three batters he faced and allowed only one hit in three innings of San Francisco's 8-0 rout of Cleveland.

"He looked as good as he has ever looked in his life," enthused manager Charlie Fox. "He threw some great fast balls."

Willie Mays and Dave Kingham homered for the Giants while Ron Bryant and John Cumberland completed the shutout.

The best pitching of the day, however, was turned in by the Los Angeles Dodgers' trio of Tommy John, Bill Singer and Pete Richert. They allowed the Atlanta Braves only one hit—Ralph Garr's first-inning single off John—in a 3-0 triumph with Jim Lefevre hitting a two-run homer.

Joe Coleman, Fred Scherman and Phil Meeler stopped the Boston Red Sox on six hits while their Detroit Tiger teammates tagged rookie Lynn McGlothen for six runs in the seventh and eighth innings of a 7-0 victory.

Wayne Simpson worked three shutout innings, George Foster slammed a two-run homer and Pete Rose cracked a two-run triple in Cincinnati's 5-3 triumph over the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Baltimore Orioles, Pittsburgh's World Series victims, dropped a 4-1 decision to the New York Yankees, who pitched ex-Oriole Fred Beene, Bob Gardner and Gary Waslewski.

Ken Boswell drove in the tying run in the seventh inning and the winner in the ninth as the New York Mets nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1. Minnesota made it seven wins in nine starts by downing Houston 3-2 with Steve Braun belting a decisive eighth-inning homer.

Lenny Randle tripled, doubled and singled and Jeff Burroughs socked a two-run homer to pace Texas over Montreal 6-2. The Chicago Cubs turned back California 8-5 with Carmen Fanzone slugging a three-run shot.

Wilbur Wood, who tamed Kansas City five times without a defeat in 1971, yielded one run in five innings and the Chicago White Sox defeated the Royals 5-1.

The San Diego Padres blanked the Lotte Orions of the Japanese League 8-0 with Fred Norman, Tom Phoebus and Dick Kelley tossing a four-hitter and Nate Colbert, Phoebus and Derral Thomas providing home runs.

Marquette Out Of Tournney Over Player Rule

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Marquette has been shut out for the first time this year. It took more than a basketball team to do it.

The Warriors, despite winning a first-round game Saturday, have been thumbed out of the NCAA tournament because of a player ineligibility ruling.

They were dropped from the playoffs Sunday after forward Bob Lackey wouldn't disclaim reports that he has an agreement with agents for a professional contract.

"This is quite a surprise to me and quite a shock, too," said Ohio University Coach Jim Snyder, whose team was humiliated 73-49 by Marquette in the Midwest regionals.

A spokesman for the NCAA said that several players were asked to sign affidavits that they were not working with agents and only Lackey balked.

While Marquette announced that Lackey would sign the affidavit Monday morning and appeal the ruling, the NCAA handed the Warriors' berth to Ohio. The Bobcats will play Kentucky Thursday in a Midwest semifinal game at Dayton, Ohio.

Florida State, 83-81 victors over Eastern Kentucky Saturday, plays Minnesota in the other semifinal match.

Seven other clubs advanced after first-round victories Saturday.

Jerry Heard Wins Citrus Open Clash

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The conversation took place on the 18th fairway during Sunday's final round of the $150,000 Florida Citrus Open Golf Tournament.

"When I won at Akron," loose and easy-going Jerry Heard said to Lee Trevino, "that's what I wanted to do—win. It was the first one. This time I want the money."

It was more than simple avarice on the part of the budding star from Visalia, Calif. He was in debt and pressing and admitted the financial problems had bothered his game.

He had a one-stroke lead at that stage, while he and Trevino waited to hit their second shots to the green on the final hole at Rio Pinar Country Club, and Heard used that picture swing to loft his shot to within about nine feet of the flag.

He rolled in the putt for a birdie three, a 69 and a two-stroke victory at 12-under-par 276. And he picked up $39,000 for first place—a check that solved the money worries.

"This will do it," the 24-year-old said. "I'm flat even. I can tell you it's a big load off my mind."

Bobby Mitchell, who bolted out of the pack with a string of five consecutive birdies on the back nine, closed with a 66 and second at 278.

Jim Jamieson, 70, and Leonard Thompson, 69, were next at 279 in the tightly bunched field.

Chris Blocker, who shared the lead at the end of three rounds, slipped to 73 and 280. He was tied with George Archer, Rod Funseth, Bob Murphy and Australian Bruce Crampton.

Jack Nicklaus, 69, and South African Gary Player, 66, were next at 281. Trevino bogeyed the first hole and never really got it going. He had a 74-282. Arnold Palmer didn't make the cut for the final two rounds.

ACC playoffs," said North Carolina Coach Dean Smith.

Penn has a score to settle with Villanova. The Wildcats handed the Quakers their only defeat last season, a 90-47 humiliation in the NCAA eastern regionals.

In the Midwest, Southwestern Louisiana plays Louisville and Texas takes on Kansas State in a doubleheader at Ames, Iowa.

Southwestern advanced on the power of Dwight Lamar and Roy Ebron, who scored 63 points between them Saturday.

Louisville moved to a meeting with the Louisiana team by taking care of Memphis State in an emotion-charged game at Nashville, Tenn.

"That's how much we hate New York," screamed center Al Vilcheck in the noisy euphoria of the winners' locker room.

Vilcheck's reference was the loser's trip to the NIT in New York. Memphis State got that bid moments after losing to the tough Cardinals.

Texas barged into the semis after putting down favored Houston behind Larry Robinson's 23 points and 14 rebounds.

In the West regional at Provo, Utah, Weber State plays UCLA, the defending champion which had a first-round bye, and Long Beach meets San Francisco, which also sat out Saturday.

"I don't think UCLA was expecting to play us," said Weber State Coach Gene Visscher after his club upset Hawaii.

Coach Red Rocha of Hawaii sat through most of the game with his head in his hands. He had little to say afterwards. Several of his players, though, said it was their worst game of the year.

The Long Beach-Brigham Young game was, perhaps, the most exciting of the day. Two free throws by Chuck Terry and Lamont King in the final seconds won it for the 49ers.

The NAIA tournament, involving 32 teams, begins today in Kansas City. Among the participants are Eau Claire, Wis. State, the top seed; second-seeded Stephen F. Austin and Kentucky State, the defending champion.

Reds Win; Simpson Big Gun

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — If Wayne Simpson is still bothered by shoulder trouble, he is doing a good job hiding it.

The young righthander blanked the hard-hitting world champion Pittsburgh Pirates on one hit in three innings Sunday as the Cincinnati Reds scored a 5-3 exhibition victory here.

Simpson struck out three and walked none.

"I think he's going to make it back now," said pitching coach Larry Shepard. "All spring he's been giving me the impression that he's not worried any more. Last year was different. You could watch him warm up and see a hesitation just as he was going to let go. He was afraid to let it all out."

Simpson slumped to a 4-7 mark and 4.77 earned run average in 1971 after developing shoulder trouble late in the 1970 season. As a rookie, Simpson started out 1970 by posting a 13-1 record.

Simpson said that "if I stay healthy, I can be better than I was in 1970. I wasn't even satisfied in 1970. I don't know if my record will be as good this year—you need the breaks for that—but I think I can be a better pitcher."

Tennessee State Sets Fight In NCAA Championship Tilt

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Celts Whip N.Y. Knicks; Win 112-109

BOSTON (AP) — "We were ragged in spots, but we still managed to win and that's what counts," said Boston Celtic Coach Tom Heinsohn.

It counted, all right, in the National Basketball Association standings after the Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 112-109 Sunday.

The victory gave the Celtics a 5-game Atlantic Division lead over the Knicks and reduced their magic number to three to clinch the division title.

In Sunday's other NBA games, it was: Baltimore 102, Detroit 97; Cincinnati 117, Golden State 106; Atlanta 135, Cleveland 114; Houston 121, Philadelphia 112; Los Angeles 141, Buffalo 102 and Milwaukee 109, Seattle 99.

In the NBA Saturday night Phoenix defeated New York 110-106 and Houston topped Buffalo 121-100.

Heinsohn had high praise for John Havlicek, who led all scorers with 41 points. The total gave him 16,984 NBA career points, putting him ahead of Bob Cousy as Boston's leading all-time scorer and 10th on the list of NBA scorers.

New York coach Red Holzman said the Knicks "overall played well. We faltered in spots and we let them get too many offensive rebounds."

The Knicks were never out of the game and had a chance up to the final buzzer.

pion around, but Tennessee State has something of its own to defend—its honor as the No. 1 team—as the NCAA College Division Championships begin.

"One thing about this club," Coach Ed Martin said of his Tigers, top-ranked in The Associated Press College Division poll. "I'm the only one who's always scared."

"But, you know, I can never remember wanting to win so badly as I do this year. I mean, you always have that desire to win or you wouldn't be coaching. But I've never felt it so strongly."

"I'm not certain what it is," Martin said, "but maybe it's because I think this may be the club that can go all the way."

But Tennessee State, winner of the South Regional title by virtue of its 79-73 victory over Delta State, has a couple of roadblocks to overcome before going all the way.

The first is its Wednesday quarter-final foe, East Regional champ Southampton, Conn., 86-73 for its title. The Tigers-Colonials game opens the playoffs at 2 p.m., EST.

About two hours later, Missouri-St. Louis, winner of the Midwest title following its 84-75 victory over Lincoln, opens South Atlantic champion Roanoke, a 67-57 victor against Biscayne, Fla.

In the night action, starting at 6 p.m., EST, Assumption, the New England titlist from Worcester, Mass., which beat Bentley 109-103, plays Eastern Michigan, which won Great Lakes honors by upsetting defending NCAA College Division champ Evansville 93-83.

The quarter-final action climaxes with Akron opposing Southern Colorado. Akron won the Midwest championship with an 87-71 triumph against Youngstown State and Southern Colorado won the West with an 86-83 squeaker over Seattle-Pacific.

Squires Lose To Stars; No Scott

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was close but no cigar again for the Virginia Squires. Also no Charlie Scott.

Scott, the American Basketball Association's leading scorer, quit the team Friday in a dispute over payment of a loan. Without him, the Squires lost to Utah by one point in overtime on Saturday and Sunday they dropped a 114-111 squeaker to the Kentucky Colonels.

The triumph was the 60th this season for the Colonels, tying the ABA record set in 1963-69 by the Oakland Oaks, who are now the Squires. Dan Issel's 33 points led the Colonels, who snapped a 90-all tie with a seven-point spurt midway through the final period. Julius Erving led Virginia with 40 points.

Elsewhere, Utah defeated Carolina 123-121, Indiana downed the Floridians 103-92, New York overtook Pittsburgh 125-116 and Memphis beat Denver 105-100.

Utah outscored Carolina 10-1 in the closing minutes to wrap up its triumph. Merv Jackson took scoring honors with 31 points, Zelmo Beaty had 25 and Willie Wise 20. Joe Caldwell paced the Cougars with 23.

The defeat cost the Cougars a chance to move into a fourth-place tie with the Floridians in the Eastern Division. Rookies Darnell Hillman and George McGinnis led a second-half rally that carried Indiana over the Floridians. McGinnis was the high scorer with 22 points. Hillman scored only 10, but blocked 10 shots and grabbed 18 rebounds.

Curt Schmidt Wins Buckeye Bowling

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — "I was never so thrilled than when I carried those last two strikes," said Buckeye Open champion Curt Schmidt.

Schmidt, a short, balding bowling pro from Fort Wayne, Ind., needed two strikes in the 10th frame and put both shots squarely in the pocket to beat week-long leader Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis, 255-248, Saturday.

Johnny Bench of Cincinnati hit only .238 in 1971 after winning the 1970 most valuable player award with a 2.93 mark.

Many Young Voters 'Independents'

By TERRY RYAN
Associated Press Writer

The nation's 11 million 18-to-20-year-olds are demonstrating a streak of independence as they register to vote.

Though figures in many states are only estimates, election officials around the country report a large percentage of the new young voters—up to 69 per cent in Alaska—are spurning the major parties to enroll as independent or nonpartisan voters.

“Young people have simply lost faith in the traditional parties,” said Leonard Slosky, a student who lobbies in the Colorado Legislature for his U.S. Senate Panel Probes W. Va. Flood MAN, W. Va. (AP) — Staff investigators for a U.S. Senate labor subcommittee were to arrive in Logan County this morning to begin a Congressional probe of the Buffalo Creek flood disaster.

The investigators, opening the first phase of a subcommittee investigation of the disaster that has claimed 116 known lives, planned to study the area and the Buffalo Mining Co. refuse impoundment that collapsed the morning of Feb. 26, releasing the flood.

Their probe is to include the circumstances surrounding the construction and maintenance of refuse piles used for water impoundment, with special emphasis on the one which released the killer flood into the 17-mile-long hollow.

The staff has also been instructed to examine Bureau of Mines' records to see if existing laws and regulations have been properly enforced, according to Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va.

Investigations have already begun on an official state level, and on a local level by an unofficial citizens' commission.

Members of the ad hoc state commission, appointed by Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr., toured the flood-torn area Saturday by helicopter and car to begin their probe.

The citizens' commission, which sprang up in protest of Moore's investigating group, began informal hearings at Buffalo Grade School in the hollow.

Urinalysis Tests Are Challenged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Urinalysis tests to be required of all Central State University students before they register for the spring quarter have been attacked as unconstitutional by the American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio.

University trustees voted Thursday to require the tests to determine whether students are using narcotics. Those whose tests are positive are to be required to take part in a treatment program.

ACLU Executive Director Benson Wolman said the new rules “smack of police state tactics.” He said the ACLU would take the matter to court if necessary.

campus colleagues. “They are not interested in participating in politics at the party level.”

Circleville Music Instructor Guest At Derr Recital

Local music instructor, Paul Dunkle, was a guest at a vocal presentation held Saturday afternoon at the home of George Haddad in Columbus.

The afternoon recital was presented by Dalton Derr of Mansfield, a student of Dr. Dale Gilliland of the Ohio State University. The performance was to introduce Derr to central Ohio music personalities.

Among the invited guests were the voice faculty of Ohio State University; Evan Whallon, director of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra; vocal accompanists from Columbus; the manager of the symphony orchestra; voice instructors of Capital University; and patrons of the arts in the city of Columbus.

Included in the recital were works of Bach, Dvorak, Schumann, and Vaughan-Williams.

Cincinnati Holds Holiday Parade

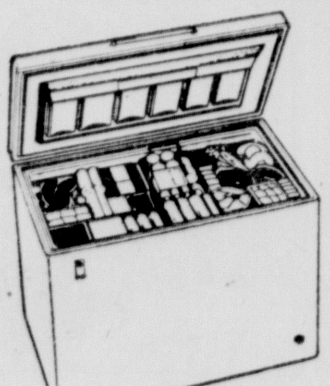

CINCINNATI (AP)—From sidewalks, overhead walkways, park benches and hoods of automobiles, about 25,000 people watched the sixth annual St. Patrick's Day Parade here Sunday.

The parade, which lasted nearly four hours, featured nearly 500 entries and was sponsored by the Ancient Order of Hibernians. Temperatures in the 70s prevailed.

A 1939 fire engine, with a statue of the patron saint on top of it, led the parade which started at the Cincinnati Union Terminal and snaked through downtown Cincinnati. Some minor traffic jams resulted.

The Associated Press sampling also found that on the average somewhere between 25 and 30 per cent of the eligible young people have already registered, with substantially higher registration in some urban areas.

Among young people opting to register in the major parties, the sampling among election officials found that on the average two were signing up as Democrats for each registering Republican.

The tendency of young voters to register in significant numbers as independents was noted in the nationwide sampling of election officials by The Associated Press. The trend was lowances by about $2 million on our 62 test projects,” the auditors said.

The audit reported this outcome of contractors directing work to their own subsidiaries: “Actual costs were overstated, builder-sponsors received unwarranted funds, mortgage amounts were inflated, and unnecessary interest-subsidy payments were and continue to be made.”

The auditors also found a “national pattern of over-estimating construction time periods,” citing this unidentified Midwest project:

Federal officials knew the builder completed similar projects in 12 months, but allowed him 15 months. “The project was actually completed in eight months,” the audit said. “Although no savings in construction costs were realized, the builder was allowed $25,153 incentive payment,” meaning profit for beating the deadline.

backed up by reports that the new voters were more interested in candidates and issues than party labels.

In 1970, the last year for which national figures are available, slightly less than 10 per cent of those registered were on the rolls as independents.

Election officials in Connecticut estimated that half the new young voters have registered as independents. A survey at the University of Washington found that 52 per cent of the students said they had or would register as independents.

Denver and Boulder counties in Colorado reported 6,654 young voters registered as independents, compared with 3,373 as Democrats and 1,111 as Republicans. Registration figures in the three most populous counties of Wyoming showed 1,125 youths registered as independents, while 498 filed as Democrats and 435 as Republicans.

Opinion on the importance of the youth vote varies widely: “There is no question they will have a real impact on the elections,” said James Neal, Republican state chairman of Indiana. “I see no reason they would not respond overwhelmingly.”

“I don't think they will have a major influence,” said Floyd Hart, Republican chairman in Oregon. “They will be just as diverse as the rest of us.”

There is a clear possibility, however, that young voters could have immense impact on the election of the next president.

Bullet Kills Young Mother In Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A terrorist's bullet killed a 24-year-old mother Sunday night, shattering a guerrilla cease-fire and marring bloodstained Belfast's first peaceful weekend for more than a year.

Bernadette Hyndman was cut down on the doorstep of her home in a Catholic section when gunman fired a volley of rifle shots at a British army patrol.

“She stopped a bullet meant for a soldier standing only a few feet away,” an army spokesman said. “Our men did not fire at all.”

Mrs. Hyndman was the 268th fatality in Northern Ireland's bloody war.

She was shot during a three-day truce called by the Irish Republican Army's nationalist Provisional wing.

The cease-fire—due to run out at midnight tonight, is not being observed by the rival Marxist “Official” wing of the IRA.

The truce had transformed Belfast until Mrs. Hyndman was shot. The center of the city, normally shunned because of the IRA's recent bombing of public places, was thronged with thousands.

IRA leaders ordered the cease-fire in anticipation of the British government's long-expected political proposals designed to meet some of the demands of Northern Ireland's Catholic minority. But reports in London indicated Prime Minister Edward Heath's cabinet was still badly split.

Antipollution

The report's authors acknowledged they had no idea whether their estimates are too high or too low because the estimates are surrounded by so many unresolved questions.

The study doesn't evaluate the benefits from cleaner air and water.

Of the 12,000 plants in the categories studied, the report said, 200 to 300 would be forced to close by antipollution requirements, but many will shut down in a few years anyway.

The report indicated 50,000 to 125,000 jobs may be eliminated, but many of the workers could find other employment.

Train Crash Believed Fatal To 4

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — Rescuers are searching for a fourth man who is believed to have died in the burning wreckage of two Penn Central freight trains which collided head on south of this central Pennsylvania town.

Forty-five cars derailed Sunday morning in the nearby community of Herndon, most of them piling up on top of each other in a space as long as three boxcars.

Penn Central officials said a 100-car coal train, eastbound from Williamsport, Pa., failed to wait on a siding until the westbound freight passed.

Marlin Bobb, who lives near a crossing about a quarter mile from the scene, said he saw the coal train before the crash and the engine was in flames.

The flames “were lapping up around the sides of the engine,” Bobb said.

R.A. Herman, district superintendent for the railroad, said it might be impossible to determine why the coal train did not remain on the siding.

But some old time railroad workers theorized that the train caught fire, the brakes failed, and the engine headed out of the siding while the crew members fought the blaze mindless of the train's direction.

Herman said the coal train was travelling at 35 miles per hour, the freight at 30 m.p.h.

Middletown Fire Damages Bulk Storage Plant

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Fire early today caused extensive damage to a Mobil Oil Co. bulk storage plant here and forced several nearby homes to be evacuated.

Four fire companies were called to the fire, which was just two blocks from the location of a large warehouse that burned down Saturday.

Firemen said the blaze started in a garage building belonging to the oil company. The building and two oil delivery trucks stored were destroyed.

Firemen hosed down 5,000-gallon oil storage tanks nearby to keep them from catching fire or exploding.

The fire was discovered around 5 a.m. by a police sergeant on patrol.

Lordstown GM Talks Continue

LORDSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — General Motors Corp. says progress was made in weekend negotiations aimed at ending a 10-day strike by some 7,800 workers at GM's Vega and truck assembly plants here.

Negotiators were to meet again at 9 a.m. today after meeting for 18 hours Saturday and six hours on Sunday. Union officials did not issue a statement on progress of the negotiations.

The strike over production line speed began March 4. It has forced a cut in the work force at the adjacent fabricating plant from 2,100 men to 450.

There have also been layoffs of 175 employees at two New York plants and GM officials estimate another 7,000 might have to be laid off should the strike continue.
